

ONE BANDIT KILLED AND ANOTHER ONE WOUNDED

Attempted to Hold Up Manager of H. G. Hill Grocery; He Pumped Lead to Them.

Saturday night as J. J. Evans, Manager of one of the H. G. Hill grocery stores, in Nashville, was leaving for home, a Ford car with three men in it drove up and they ordered him "Hands Up!" He drew a pistol and killed one of the men and wounded another as the two attempted to get away.

The man killed was Stewart S. Lynch, a junior student at Hume-Fogg high school and was about 19 years of age. The wounded man is J. D. Willoughby. He was shot in the jaw after getting away from the scene of the shooting surrendered and was taken to the city hospital for an operation. So soon as he is sufficiently recovered he will be taken to the county jail to await trial. The other man in the holdup is, according to the statement of Willoughby, Patrick Riley, automobile salesman. At last reports he had not been found.

The shot that killed Lynch entered his head over the left eye and he dropped unconscious on the spot and died after being removed to the city hospital without regaining consciousness.

Willoughby claims this was their first "job" and that it was planned because they were all "broke." The check book in the pocket of young Lynch, the dead bandit, showed over $40 to his credit in a Nashville bank. It is thought these same men held up a manager of another of the Hill grocery stores a few days ago and took nearly $300 from him.

SHERIFF HENRY AND MEN AMONG THE MOONSHINERS

Possies Destroyed Three Outfits, Several Gallons Still Beer and Arrest Two Men.

Sheriff J. H. Henry and his deputies have been making it rather warm the past week for the illicit whiskey makers. He and his deputies last week destroyed three outfits and several gallons of still beer besides arresting two men.

Their first raid seems to have been on Yellow Creek, in the old Seventh district, where the Sheriff, Dock Scott and Currie Farmer, both his deputies, found a complete stilling outfit and 200 gallons of beer, all of which was destroyed. They caught Adam Kilby coming to the still; he had a small quantity of whiskey with him.

Sheriff Henry made another raid accompanied by his deputies, Clarence Turner, Henry Turner and d'Marshal V. C. Lyles and got a complete outfit and about 150 gallons beer. The still was a small one, holding about 15 gallons. They caught Clifford Oakes at the still and brought him to town Friday. U. S. Deputy Revenue Officer D. E. Jenkins prosecuted Oakes before Commissioner J. W. Dorton Saturday and Oakes was bound to court in the sum of $500. F. W. Frey, L. E. Hamby and John Norris made the necessary bond for Oakes. Some months ago Oakes entered the Cumberland Mountain School with the avowed determination of getting an education and entering the ministry, but it seems that his good resolutions did not stay with him or he with them.

Sheriff Henry headed a raiding party consisting of Revenue Officer Jenkins, Deputies Clarence, Ervin and Henry Turner, H. D. Shaver and Bert Stevens and got an outfit on Byrds Branch in the far eastern part of the county not far from the Roane county line. No arrests were made.
